

GGG High School Recommended Reading list

The purpose of a recommended reading list is to encourage students to pick up books that they might not have previously encountered. Recommended reading lists also provide flexibility that fixed curriculums do not possess and help improve skills in all areas of reading and writing. Our English and ELA lab instructors have carefully curated a list of 50 works that are recommended for students to read before they enter university. Books in bold have also been given special recommendations from teachers based on the work's ability to help practice Common Core Standards, high level comprehension, SAT preparation, and levels of difficulty.

**There are extra credit opportunities for students who have read, or intend to read, any book on the list.*
